the ecuadorian deception pdf

the ecuadorian deception Various peoples had settled in the area of the future Ecuador before the arrival of the Incas. The archeological evidence suggests that the Paleo-Indians' first dispersal into the Americas occurred near the end of the last glacial period, around 16,500 to 13,000 years ago. The first Indians who reached Ecuador may have journeyed by land from North and Central America or by boat down the Pacific the ecuadorian deception Operation Tabarin was a secret British Antarctic expedition. It was launched in 1943 under the pretence of patrolling the Antarctic from German commerce raiders and U-boats that threatened Allied shipping during the course of World War II. The expedition resulted in the establishment of a number of bases, thus strengthening British territorial claims to the area.
